Editors Letter

We are now coming into our fourth year as the editors of Bat Ears. As usual, we will start by telling you it isn't an easy task getting it all ready and trying to ensure it is of interest to most members. But, we get there eventually!! It would be an enormous help if you wonderful advertisers could get your copy and payment to Maureen as early as possible please. 99% of you do (thank you so much)....but there is always one. Several emails and phone calls and still no payment.....

We lost our printer only weeks before the deadline; another sign of the times, with the company closing for business. However, we quickly sourced another and hope this meets with your approval. Of course we are paying more than previously. So, once again we must thank all those who support us. We really appreciate your loyalty – time after time you come up trumps. We know times are hard, but placing ads and sending articles is what makes Bat Ears a club publication to be proud of. To those of you who send donations towards the Bat Ears expenses our heartfelt thanks.

Bat Ears goes to all our members, both here at home and to about a dozen other overseas countries. In addition it is sent to many of the championship show judges on the Club's A list.

The Club is constantly asking for more help from members. The Committee works very hard to bring you three shows a year and other events. Some of us are of a 'certain age', and the mental and physical support of younger members is required if the club is to continue and flourish.

By the time you read this we are sure your Christmas shopping will all be done (or maybe not!). Make sure you pack a little stocking for your Frenchies. Please spare a thought for the unwanted Frenchies, either in welfare or rescue centres this year, who are not so lucky.

Wishing you and your Frenchies success for the coming show season and a Happy Christmas and a healthy and prosperous New Year

The Batty Ladies.

Secretary's Letter Bat Ears Autumn 2012

It is with regret that I type this last offering for Bat Ears as Club secretary. I have enjoyed my time in this role and learnt so much, some things for the better and some I wish I hadn't been made aware of but that is life. All things considered I am extremely proud to have been the interface of the club with the Kennel Club, the public and of course the members.

Looking forward the club is planning to introduce health testing (as you read this Heart Testing will be going ahead at the November 2012 Open show). Plans to include eye testing BVA/KC are being finalised and once an independent co-ordinator is identified the French Bulldog Health Scheme could be available at shows (subject to interest).

Show entries continue to rise and this makes for a great show day atmosphere as exhibitors, breeders and visitors catch up with each other and new friendships are created. Our Championship show saw a brilliant entry of 171 at the new venue Asfordby Leics. This must be some kind of record and certainly on a par with Crufts 2012! (167)

The choice of judges for club shows continues to prove popular among members and voting papers for 2014 Open shows are included in this edition of Batears. Due to a dead heat vote for Championship show judges you have selected Mrs I Tribbeck (2013) and Mrs M Le Gallais (2014). Voting papers for 2015 will be out early next year.

Our breed is reaching phenomenal proportions with high numbers of imports and many varied and fancy colours (1088 registrations for the last quarter). Hopefully there will be a change in the future when people realise that Frenchies are people dogs and do not appreciate being away from their owners and certainly not kept in kennels. Unfortunately it is too late for some of the dogs that have ended up in Welfare through no fault of their own; hopefully they will find new forever homes.

Please ensure you book a place at the AGM 17th February 2013 as this will be a deciding factor in the future of the clubs cups and trophies and your vote will only count if you attend.

Offers of help at club events e.g. setting up the show, taking it down and clearing away, helping with catering and other ad hoc duties are always appreciated and a Discover Dogs Manager is being sought to oversee the four days of Crufts. If any of this appeals to you please contact a member of the committee for further details. If you want to have an input into how the club is run, again speak to a committee member with a view to joining the committee. It's not all 'jam and Jerusalem' it can be fun and very rewarding knowing you are ensuring the club continues for the benefit of the breed.

Your new secretary Amanda Pike will take over the role after the Open show 25th Nov 2012 and I would like to wish her all the best for the future and I know you will help to make her feel welcome.

May I wish you all a Merry Christmas, Happy New Year and success in the show ring.

THE CLIPPERS

By The Mossport Frenchies

This is a tale of Frenchies nails!
Bring out the clippers and hear our wails.
Off like a shot we all run
Under the chair, let's have some fun.
Mum bought a 'contraption', an electric tool.
A friend said 'Mine's great, it's really cool'.
We see 'that thing' and you can be certain
Our best place to hide is behind the curtain.
Just give us a ball and a piece of hard ground,
We'll soon wear them down.
Look, they're all nice and round.
To win that red ribbon we must be neat.
Wow, look at us now – check out our feet.
We must go now, so here we will pause.
As she's back again to do our dew claws!

The French Bulldog: Heritage and Art

THE FRENCH BULLDOG HERITAGE AND ART by Nick Waters

Review by Michael Rosser

This really is an important, outstanding and most readable French Bulldog book. Readily available (BBPress The Netherlands www.bbpress.nl sales@bbpress.nl) in 2012 its year of publication, in future years it is likely to become scarce while continuing to be unique and the definitive work.

Author Nick Waters' experience and knowledge of dog art and antiques is coupled with a real interest in people and historical perspectives. Add tenacious research and literally years of writing. The result is this definitive and beautiful book, described by the publishers as "a once in a lifetime publication on the French Bulldog" – and indeed it is.

Nick Waters was a specialist antique dealer for many years. He regularly writes his The Dog in Art column for the USA Dog News and the UK weekly Dog World. On 24 December 2009 he published his 500th(!) column. (Significantly that milestone article was about the 3½" tall French Bulldog from Fabergé, carved from petrified wood and with diamonds and gold. The book has a full color plate picture and text about this beautiful Fabergé frenchie in the chapter 'All that Glistens').

Nick also wrote the UK The Kennel Club's Art Collection Catalogue for the club's new art gallery when it opened in September 2003. (The catalogue was a fully illustrated catalogue of the Kennel Club's entire collection and a collector's item in itself.)

At the start of The French Bulldog Heritage and Art the author makes plain "The French Bulldog Heritage and Art does not attempt to feature all the many roles the breed has played over the years, or be a complete listing of every picture painted, every artifact ever made, or all the characters both human and canine who have moulded the breed. Such a task would not only have been impossible but would have spoilt the thrill of discovery for every French Bulldog enthusiast."

The opening chapter 'From Candle Light to Red Lights and Chandeliers' provides an entertaining history of the breed, with quotes (some of which even the most ardent Frenchie enthusiast would not have seen before) and quality illustrations which appear throughout the whole book.

There follows 'The American Dream', an entertaining description of the early days of the American French Bulldog fanciers, full of interest and detail.

In 'Portraits, Pets and People' Nick Waters hopes that the chapter "will give a broad insight into the depth of work that has been produced over the last hundred and thirty years or so, how artists have observed the breed, famous artists who have painted it and some famous dogs that have been portrayed." The chapter does so and in clear, lavish and beautiful style and color. As with the whole book, the human interest is interwoven in text and pictures and provides a delightful and painlessly instructive entertainment.

The chapter takes us through Frenchie paintings and painters as well as famous names and history. In particular many recent artists and some of their paintings are mentioned in the text, whetting the appetite for even more illustrations than in the chapter.

'Byngo and Friends' gives us a history of porcelain and the ceramic models of Frenchies, which only a considerable knowledge and expertise could provide. Anyone collecting French Bulldog models should buy the book for this chapter alone. For instance "A tip for collectors – if the factory mark on the base of models produced by many factories has a scratch through it, this indicates that it is a factory second, even though any blemishes may be difficult to detect."

The illustrations, color-values, definition, lay-out and captions are of high quality and complement and interact with the text. For example, the chapter gets its name from the Denby-Ware dog and on p88 there is a delightful color photo of two shelves of about 32 different Byngos, with the caption "An area of collecting in its own right, and indeed there are collectors who collect nothing else, is the Denby Ware dog known as Byngo made by Joseph Bourne and Son Ltd. at their pottery in Denby, Derbyshire. Byngo is distinctive and once seen always remembered; chunky, whimsical, almost childlike in the modeling, with large ears, piercing eyes, a black dot nose and pencil thin lips".

Nick gives the warnings that "The models are easy to copy and there are far more copies about than there are original Denby Ware dogs ... Some of the copies have heart-shaped eyes rather than the trademark piercing black round ones ...".

The 'Bugatti to Concorde' chapter highlights the value of this book (quite apart from its enjoyment) to anyone who might collect Frenchie items. For example Nick Waters starts the chapter with "When I was dealing in antiques I was acutely aware of the confusion that existed as to what was, and was not, 'genuine' bronze." He then gives clear and readable guidelines about the various metals used for French Bulldog models, with bronze the "crème de la crème".

Once again there are beautiful color illustrations with the text, wonderfully accompanying the journey from Rembrandt Bugatti through to the model of the dog Concorde, via Becca Williams' A precious handful and other mouth-watering pieces.

The next chapter sees the unusual step of publisher Bas Bosch inserting a chapter, highlighting the bronze sculptures of Dutch artist Gerda van den Bosch. He explains that "In this book her craftsmanship deserves an honorary place too because Gerda has chosen the French Bulldog as her subject the most often." The illustrations certainly demonstrate remarkable talent and attention to detail and expression.

'Little Scraps of Beauty' starts "Collectively known as ephemera, because their original purpose was short-lived, trade cards, cigarette cards and postcards have for years languished as one of the most underrated of all art forms. Many were designed by artists of great skill and produced using the finest technology of the period in which they were produced. They also display the ingenuity and patience of photographers who were struggling to capture the animate with slow shutter speeds."

Here again there is the visual delight of just flitting through the pages and pausing at colorful reproduction of pages full of cigarette cards or old postcards, or of stopping to read the text and continuing to the end of the particular section or indeed the whole intriguing chapter.

'Fame, Infamy and Frenchies' takes us to all sorts of trade, literary, fashion, artistic and other personalities in the public eye. There is much really interesting and intriguing detail about characters past and present who have owned Frenchies.

The next chapter goes to Prince von Ratibor's castle and the subsequent 2000 auction of his French Bulldog collection following the Prince's death (including in DM some estimates and selling prices).

The author inserted a warning about "growlers" "Made of papier mâché and virtually life-size, the dog has a swivel head and a chain to its neck which opens his mouth when he growls ... Collectors should be very careful when buying and satisfy themselves that any provenance is genuine ... " (This is allegedly due to 'aged' copies made in the Far East.)

This wonderful book then permits us to learn a great deal about the Girard, Grebe, Hargreaves and Henderson collections from a personal viewpoint and how they came into being and also to see beautiful pictures of some of the remarkable, rare and intriguing items from those extraordinary gatherings of things Frenchie. Again this is all accompanied by sumptuous color illustrations.

'A Frenchie Miscellany' – in this last chapter Nick Waters states "In the pages of this book I have attempted to give in words and pictures an insight into the history, heritage and art of the French Bulldog and to show how the breed has touched and inspired the lives of so many people, in so many ways, and from all walks of life." The author has more than succeeded – if you only buy one French Bulldog book, buy this.

This book is available from the Merchandising stand at the M&N Club shows, or, on line, from BBPress.

Thank you to Michael Rosser (Australia) for permission to use his review in Bat Ears.

Louis / Ralphies Story.

"Louis /Ralphie is a pied male and was approximately 10 months old when he came to the Trust via Cyprus this is his story.

Louis came into the Trust via an English lady who has a summer home in Cyprus. One day whilst standing in the street outside her villa she was amazed to see refuse collectors pull a pied Frenchie puppy out of the back of their lorry and drop him in the street, the pup just sat in the middle of the street watching them empty the bins, the lady went and asked the men how the puppy had got into their lorry and was told he must have been in one of the wheelie bins and been tipped into the refuse lorry. Horrified she picked up the pup (Louis) and took him home, enquiries were made around the area of her home looking for his owners, no one came forward to claim him. In the end she decided to adopt him, as present animal welfare in Cyprus is a little disorganised and under funded. Louis as she called him was taken to her vet who pronounced that he was fit and healthy if a little under weight and profoundly deaf and had been from birth. As the lady was soon to be returning to the UK she arranged for Louis to get his pet passport, on arrival in the UK she found Louis didn't get on very well with her other dogs and finally asked the Trust if we would take him in. He was put in the care of a foster family that had adopted Arnie the Blind Frenchie, the two of them hit it off from the word go, with Louis (the deaf) leading Arnie (the blind) although you would not know of their problems unless told.

Following a check by the vet and a full character assessment Louis was ready to go to his new forever home, his new owner would have to learn basic dog sign language and accept all the problems that come with a dog who cannot hear you call him, this would take a lot of time and patience, and as a added problem Louis by now was becoming more dominant in his behaviour and would have to be socialised and trained properly to prevent any aggression problems later.

We found exactly the right home as can be seen from the comments of his new owners below.

They write:

We had been on the waiting list for a Frenchie for about a year when we were contacted by one of the trustees and they told us they had a pied boy 10 months old and deaf, would we be interested in him?

We were sent a photo and fell in love with him straight away. We quickly arranged to travel to his foster home for a visit, we already have 2 other dogs one Frenchie and a Patterdale Terrier, as well as 2 teenage sons, so we all went up to see him, we met with the foster family in a large open park near their home and the dogs all got on well straight away.

All the Trust vetting checks had already been carried out and we had been approved by the trust as suitable to adopt a dog. So, after a long run around the park, we were given all the background on Louis/Ralphie by his foster family. After a long talk and a lot of questions we signed the adoption form and were finally all in the car heading for home with our new boy!

Louis became Ralphie who settled in quite quickly into our home and routine, his deafness isn't really a problem as he tends to follow the other two girls around. He loves to play and has a real fascination with water at any given opportunity. We do use sign language, thumbs up for good and wagging fingers for naughty!! If we need him to come we either pat the floor or beckon to him, he picked that up more or less straight away and he does sit by a click of the fingers!!!

We mainly keep him on a large extendable lead as there is obviously no recall, in large open distraction free spaces we do let him off and he tends to stay by our side, if he does get distracted we run and he just follows us..He is very loving, typical boy wanting to dominate and loves a fuss.

We have now had him for 5 months and it's going very well, we can't imagine life without him, he's adorable. He has made a lot of progress since he came to us, he had a few bad habits but they have mostly been corrected now by persistence, the help of our other two dogs and a fantastic dog psychologist. He's now about 16 months old (we think) so in between the puppy and adolescent stage. It took a while for him not to want to charge at other dogs in the park, and get so over excited. We realised from the psychologist that was probably as a result of the deafness, he can't always gauge other dogs and if they bark he can't hear them so sometimes he gets confused. He had a few homes before us, and he hadn't had much social interaction with other dogs and just wanted to say hello.

Considering his journey so far, geographically and mentally, we are delighted with him and he has made great progress, if a little stubborn and naughty at times, typical of the breed.

Thanks to the great work of the Trust we have been given this opportunity to give Ralphie his forever home. Don't be put off adopting a Frenchie with a disability it just takes love, patience and time and understanding."

Midland & Northern Counties French Bulldog Club Ch Show.

Asfordby, 30th Sept 2012

It was a great pleasure to judge this club's annual ch. show and to receive such a fabulous entry, the highest ever for a single judge I believe. There was a new venue and everyone seemed really pleased with it, it gave us more room for the dogs and also for the various stands selling Frenchie memorabilia. The new secretary Tina Jopling seemed to have everything under control and all through the day there was a great atmosphere. The president Maureen Bootle was evident throughout the day and the committee did a sterling job.

The breed is experiencing such a boom at the moment and not always a good thing. With an entry of this size I was able to view the breed as it stands now and it was quite obvious that there is such a variation in type coming through. We are getting a lot of imports from Eastern Europe, some good and some not so good and I do worry a little for the future. Of course we are on the KC's health programme but I can honestly say there was nothing at all at any point in the day that I was concerned about, but we must be vigilant too as problems can soon raise their heads. Knowing and loving the breed as I do, there really is no need to mention temperament, perfect and we can all be proud of that.

A big thank to you everyone for their entry, I thoroughly enjoyed my long day, in some classes it was really difficult to pick out some and leave out others that I did like!

MINOR PUPPY D (11) 1. Cunds Chelmbull Moon Pilot. Dark br. Very smart. Super head and eye. Well shaped and carried ears. Good neck & shoulder, Excellent top line. Showed so well, in great condition. Just needs to mature now and sure will be a top winner. 2 Bootles Tommyville Twill Will. Light brindle. Slightly more mature to 1 and lots to like. Not as sound in front as 1. Short and compact in body. Very nice in head and expression. Ex mouth. Straight front. In super condition. 3 Elsbergienes Busher Pljus Memory Game of Frustyle TAF Pied and very much the baby of the class and needs to grow on too, but he is well made. Very sound which is where I felt he scored over the remainder of the class.

PUPPY D (11) 1. Drummonds Renuar New War Bonnet Glenlee (Imp Lva) Light Brindle really nice dog. Liked him a lot. All of a piece, short coupled, ex top line. Good hindquarters, he is very sound. Super head, ex muzzle, good mouth and under jaw straight. One with a bright future liked him as much in the challenge and gave him the dog CC. 2. Cunds Chelmbull Rising Moon. This young boy was so close and hard to separate. He is not as mature as 1 but that will come. Lovely outline, good neck and shoulders. Super front. What a decision to make between these two. So well handled too, brother to winner of MPD – Wow, what a litter that must have been. 3. Toes Alsuma Pale Rider for Zeppelin Pied dog and another so well made. Wrinkle over his shoulder doesn't help his clean top line. Very good in head properties.

JUNIOR D (8) 1. Williams Dalspa Dick Van Dyke Super head on this boy of 17 months. Well made. Ex front and feet. Good bone, enough neck. A lovely soft roach, good behind. In good condition. 2. Morgans Celticibrid Taffy. Dark brindle again and super shape on this young dog of 12 months. Not as mature as 1 in body and also needs a little more spring of rib. He moves so well. When he matures he will be quite special I'm sure. 3. Ellis, Pearce and Francis Estonite Jack Flash. Dark br and very sound dog. Another with an excellent head, large well-placed ears. Ex muzzle and under jaw but just a little flat in top line.

NOVICE D. (6) Ellis Eastonite Sir Davis Frost. Pied. OK for size, short and compact, enough neck, nice roach. Could be a little straighter in front. Very good in head properties, well shaped eye, open nostrils. Ex mouth. 2. D. Dick van Dyke. 3. Davis Breaksdale Teddy Edwards Rowendale. Fawn, and what I would say at an in-between stage. Not carrying enough body and a little flat in top line, but he is a nice size. He is sound and free moving. Good bone and feet. I think he will be a better dog next year.

GRAD D (4) 1. E. Sir David Frost 2. D. Dick van Dyke. 3. Banks Tommyville Tradition at Nellbank. Fawn Boy who did everything not to show today. Well bodied dog. Ex bone and feet. Good neck and shoulders. Good hindquarters, in super condition. Well handled.

P. GRAD D (5) 1. Hutchinsons Hadrurus Arizonensis and 2. E. Jack Flash. Quite a tussle between these two, I had to think long and hard. Both completely different. Winner is a pied not big and not as good in front as 2. My second is a taller dog, longer coupled and flatter in top line. My winner needs a little more spring of rib. Hard decision. 3. Woods Emberez Diablo Also a pied and not looking as though he was enjoying himself. Never really used his ears which spoiled his head and expression. Maybe outside he will make more of himself.

MID LIMIT D (4) 1. Wildmans Wildax Doug Hyde, Light br dog. I really liked this boy. Has one of the best mouths today. Very sound both ways. He is a nice size. Good outline. A little more roach would be good but in Frenchies you don't often get everything in one package. Now he has body on him should do well. 2. Tilley's Mossport Michaelangelo, also br out of a larger mould to 1. Not quite the cleanness through his neck and shoulder as 1 and not quite as sound in front. His head is full of quality and uses himself so well. 3. Welsh's Feniton Fineas Fogg over Desrebttes. Pied boy and another who gave his handler a hard time both on the table and moving. He is a nice size, very much the head type I like. Maybe he was having an off day.

LIMIT D (8) 1. Wright's Crindles Wright Move. Dark br dog and very full of himself at times. OK for size. Nice outline, well ribbed. Good top line. Correct hindquarters. Quite sound and well handled. Looked well in the challenge and was res CC. 2. Rawsthornes Risethor Mr Brightside. Light brindle dog I was quite taken with. Slightly longer in body tp 1 and so lost a bit of his top line. Super mover both ways. Loved his head and expression. Well handled to get the very best from him. 3. Longdons Alsuma Shady Squire. Br dog OK in outline. Again he was good in head properties. Moved very well both ways but I felt he was a little heavy through his neck and shoulders which I felt tended to make him stuffy.

OPEN D (10) 1. Gura-Mallons Jafrak Perfect Silent at Celticibrid. Brindle male who I have never set eyes on before. He is a lovely size and outline. Good in neck and shoulders, straight front, good bone and feet. Ex Top line. Possibly could have more positive behind but I was prepared to forgive that for his other qualities. Sadly in the challenge he just went to pieces and spoiled himself. 2. Morvern Frank avec Labanjo. Fawn dog who I have seen on several occasions and was in my final line up at Crufts Group. Today he seemed bored with it all. This is one of the best movers in the breed at present. I like his head a lot. His handler did a great job with him on the day. 3. Longdons Ch Alsuma Shady Knight. Br and completes a nice final. Moves so well though today could have been better in front. Another head I really liked. Solid firm body but lacks a bit of neck and made him look stuffy.

VETERAN D (1) Smiths Ch Ageancourt Foxglove 7 year old boy who really enjoyed himself. In great form. I loved his head and expression, wide open nostrils, good under jaw. Straight front, good bone and feet. Moves well. Always a dog I admired in his younger days.

SP PIED D (1) Hadrurus Arizonensis

SP FAWN D (1) Ch Jafrak Pistols at Dorn. One of the few I have judged before. He was in great form. Super body condition. Very good head and ears. Ex wide muzzle. Ex mouth. Straight front and good feet. Moves really well. Well handled as always by his sporting owner.

SP. BRINDLE D (3) 1. Ellis Eastonite Lionel; Br dog who moves so well. Super masculine head and expression. Well placed ears, wide muzzle Ex mouth. Good front Ex bone. Good top line, nice roach. 2. D. Dick van Dyke.

MINOR PUPPY B (14) This was a most lovely class of really promising babies. 1. BrooksLowe, Hawkes & Swateridge Xentique Burlesque Dark br bitch who I felt was exquisite. Sound and nice size. Lovely shape, lovely head and ears. Very exciting little bitch. 2. Cunds Chelmbull Miss Moonshine. Oh, so close up and really I could say the same about her. Such a difficult decision between all 3 and easily change them on another day. Will be so interesting to watch the development. Again so well handled. 3. Xentique Dynamite avec Dobermoray The third pea in a pod. Same exquisite type as 1 and 2. Didn't move as freely as 1 and 2 but, again, she did move soundly. I see she is sister to the class winner.

PUPPY B (11) Another nice class. 1. Conways Oro Jumaroro Action Alet Annashell (Imp Cze) Dark br puppy. Well grown. Well bodied, lovely head and ears. Good front Ex bone and feet. Lovely top line. Should do well. 2. Wildmans Wildax Dusty Springfield. One who I have admired from the ringside. Showed herself so well. Good front and feet. Good neck. Today looked a little light in condition against the winner. Well handled as always. 3. Blairs Twinhoe Bertha. Br. A little different in outline to 1 and 2. Well bodied and solid. Super front Ex bone Good top line. Just not as cobby as my winners but she moved and showed so well.

JUNIOR B (15) 1. Greens Alonzobar Tinie Tempha. Dark br, lovely puppy took my eye when she came into the ring. Very feminine short and cobby. Lovely top line. Sound both ends Super head and expression, Uses her ears all the time. 2. Browns Sake de Elka Gyvybes Zyme at Kuredeax. Very similar in type to 1 and lots to like. Very compact yet still with good bone. Super tight feet. Lovely head. Again, liked her a lot. 3. Blairs Twinhoe Dora. Fawn and slightly different in type to above. Super to go over. Lovely neck and shoulders. Ex front. Good bone, good in top line. Sound both ways. Her head type I like a lot and she has super pigment.

YEARLING B (7) 1. Souters Tommyville Tartan Ribbon at Greusaiche. Fawn,. Nice type, OK for size. Good neck and shoulders, Nice roach. Good front. Looks good moving in profile. 2. Moorings Byrock Silver Thistle. This is such a nice b and could have won the class if she had put more into moving. She is a lovely shape. Good in head. Well placed ears. Good front. Such a shame as I really liked her. 3. Butterfields. Gizio Almost an Angel at Chequerpei. Br of a nice size. Not as compact as I would have liked but she was nice to go over on the table and well handled. Just looked a bit bored.

NOVICE B (6) 1. Williams Dalspa Dita von Teese. Br. Solid built. Moves well Very nice outline, good front an feet. Good bone. Well handled. 2. Andows Eastonite Dear Dorothy Dark br Not quite the outline of 1 but I really liked her head and expression. Wide jaw. Well placed ears. Good front, well handled. 3. Swateridges Xentique Boutique. Fawn,. 6 months and of course was lacking the maturity of the above. Very promising though. She is good in size and very sound. Just needs time.

GRAD B (7) 1. Swateridges Garbo du Domaine des Molosses avec Zentique (Imp Fra) Br of 14 months. Very sound, very feminine. Really makes the most of herself. She is a nice size. Good front and bone and feet. Should do well. 2. Fishers Grandesign Front Page. Nice for type and could have made more of herself standing and would lean into her front spoiling her outline. Nice type OK for size. She seemed a little tense. 3. G Almost an Angel at C.

POST GRAD B (7) 1. Rawthornes Risethor Poppiholla. Light br I liked a lot. Super outline, straight front. Very sound. Lovely head, beautifully set on ears. Ex muzzle and mouth. Correct topline. Just never stopped showing. I felt on the challenge she stood out and so won Cc and then BIS. 2. T. Tarten Ribbon at G 3. Olliers Ageancourt Midnight Sun at Deallies. Dk br. Super head type. Not quite the outline I was looking for but well bodied. Little flat in top line, moves OK.

MID LIMIT B (6) 1. Hammonds Living Next Door to Alice. Not a big bitch but well made, and also made the most of herself. Super head and expression, broad muzzle. Short and compact, so well handled to get the very best out of her. 2. Bradords Sibovelds Santanna. Pied and well marked. Larger in type to 1 but still balanced. Good neck and shoulders. Ex top line. Good spring of rib. Good bone and feet. 3. McMunns Emberez Eclipse at Goodbull. Br with super head and eye. Well placed ears. Little longer coupled that 1 & 2. Sound on the move.

LIMIT B (11) 1. Hammonds Twinhoe Delilah Light br. Not the strongest of bitches but won this class on outline, soundness and showmanship. Have judged her before and really liked her but today she appeared light on body. Still a very nice bitch. 2. Patience Portenta Perchance to Dream. Pied with a lovely head and expression. Short and cobby, good top line. Good hindquarters, moved well both ways. Little taller than 1 but still with balance. 3. Chambers Glenlee Indian Spirit at Luvum. Fawn of a nice size. Balanced. Good in head but nose wrinkle spoiled it a little. Showed well.

OPEN B (8) 1. Davis Glyncroft Pure Diamond at Bellicose Light br. Really scores in head and expression. Dark eyes. Good muzzle. Ex mouth and chin. Good topline. Well ribbed sound and free moving. Res Bitch CC. 2. Bootle & Harrison's Tutu Much at Foleyfarm. Also light br. Good moving bitch. Not as good in neck as 1. Well bodied. Larger type to 1. Very nice head and eye, liked her expression. Ex muzzle and mouth. 3. Arnolds Rozgarve Conygar Dark br and well bodied. Good front. Strong head but could have had a bit more width of jaw.

VETERAN B (7) What an incredible class. These oldies were amazing. From 11 years old, down, and they all looked so good. What a credit to their owners and to the breed. 1. North & Hollands Tommyville Tidgy Pud. 2. Harrison's Tommyville Thora Thorndyke 3. Gordons Rustibee Vienna.

SP PIED B (7) 1. Swateridges Skybull Marie Antoinette Xentique. Quality b. Stronger type, soundest in this class. Good front and feet. Short and cobby. Ex front and feet. Correct top line. Well marked too. 2. P Perchance to Dream 3. D.Devine Miss Emm.

SP FAWN (3). 1. G Indian Spirit at L 2. Souters Madainn Highland Miss Chief ShCM. One of the oldies on Veteran Well made, in super condition for 9 years old.

SP BRINDLE (4) 1. Souters Tommyville Topping at Greusaiche. Light br. OK for size. She moves well, Good front. Good in head but needs to be stronger and wider in muzzle.

Geoff Corish.

How to prepare your dog for surgery.....

For General Surgery, I would give the night before surgery, Arnica 1M one dose. The morning of the surgery, another dose of Arnica. Just prior to the surgery, and another dose immediately afterwards. Then every 2 hours for six doses. I would also add Ferr Phos 30c (prevention of infection), so I can re assure that I will not need to take home any chemical antibiotics/or need them. I know Rescue Remedy is not homeopathic, but the herbal ingredients, help with any stress or fear related condition very well. So if I would have an fearful dog, I would give him that remedy to calm him down.

For surgery involving cartilage and periosteum, I would give Ruta Grav 30C the evening before, the morning of the operation, and immediately afterward for 2 dose, one hour apart.

After surgery I give Rescue Remedy. When my dogs come out of the anaesthesia, I put a few drops of rescue remedy on their tongue every few minutes. Both the vet and his assistant, who did not know what I was doing, commented that they had never seen a dog come out of anaesthesia so quickly and with as little confusion or crying.

If the animal is slow coming out of anaesthesia, (maybe vomiting) I would give one dose of Phosphorus 30C. But I never had that problem with my dogs, I think the reason for that is that they go well prepared into surgery.
