Editor's Notes

Welcome to the Spring edition of Bat Ears.

Unfortunately French Bulldogs have finally done it! and its not a cause for celebration, the UK's most popular breed according to Kennel Club Registration figures. 36,785 French Bulldogs were registered in 2018, this figure includes imported dogs as well as puppy registrations. The majority of these registrations were for CNR (colour not recognised) dogs. The breed really is in crisis!

Brachycephalic breeds continue to attract negative press and it can only be hoped that demand for CNR puppies declines and the puppy breeders who have no interest in the breed standard turn their attention elsewhere. I hope members who continue to breed from show standard, health tested dogs are able to find good homes for the puppies they don't keep. On the plus side there is a wealth of health tests now available and the KC have launched a Respiratory Function Grading scheme with the University of Cambridge. Under the new scheme selected regional vets can grade dogs and the gradings are recorded on KC registrations. I've included the list of approved assessors in this edition.

Lori Hunt's final article on spines gives advice on how to improve spines for future generations and I'm grateful to her for sharing her personal research. Thank you to Maureen Bootle for her article on Frenchie Collectables. Once again thank you to the advertisers whose support helps pay postage costs. I'm grateful to Lorna Tilley for her record of Champ Show entries that I have included with the show results.

If anyone wants to take over the editing and production of Bat Ears please contact the Club's Secretary.

I hope you enjoy this edition.

President's Address

I must start these comments by thanking all those members who made the Clubs 60th Anniversary year such a success. Special thanks to all of you who kindly donated special prizes, sponsored classes at our shows and generally helped in many ways. I would also like to thank the Officers & Committee who put so much effort in making last years anniversary shows so memorable and finally thanks and appreciation must go to all that entered our shows.

How things have changed in recent decades, 30 years ago, when I was looking to purchase my first French Bulldog, I had to wait two years for my first "Frenchie" a lovely little girl called Quatt Honey Pot who was bred by the late Anne Cottrell daughter of Joan Cottrell who was the founder of the Midland & Northern Counties French Bulldog Club. I am sure they would both be very proud of the way our club is flourishing today. At that time though the French Bulldog world was so different, registrations were approximately 200 to 300 puppies a year. As we all know registrations are now well over 30,000, this is very sad as so many of these puppies are bred purely for commercial purposes hence the increase of French Bulldog welfare/rescue groups from just one to three, these are:

The French Bulldog Welfare Trust, French Bulldog Rescue GB, French Bulldog Saviours (FBS).

These groups do such sterling work and are run by volunteers, they are all charities and rely entirely on voluntary contributions and donations, they are always grateful to receive items for auction as well as donations, you can imagine the costs with vet bills etc. These groups work so hard and deserve our support.

I must give special thanks to Carole Ash for all the time and work she puts in to editing and publishing this biannual club magazine. The in-depth information particularly on health matters make Bat Ears a valuable reference source for members

Finally, a thank you to all our members for continuing to support our club especially those that enter our shows, many who travel great distances, we really appreciate your attendance. If any members are interested in helping the club by serving on the committee. Please contact our Honorary Secretary, Amanda Jayne Pike who will be pleased to hear from you

Chairman's Report

What an exciting year 2018 was being the clubs 60th Anniversary year. Our 3 shows were a resounding success which received fabulous support and sponsorship from our members. Our championship show saw us move to a new venue which went down really well, with all those who attended giving us fabulous feedback. The club has a new Assistant Secretary & show secretary, Abbie Cund, working along side a fabulous hard working secretary Amanda Pike who both do a fantastic job on behalf of the club and its members. Many thanks to everyone who sponsored classes, donated prize money & trophies. The display was fabulous.

Registration figures for our breed continue to rise which is a great concern along with the increase in NRC. We firmly believe that education of the general public is the way forward. This is very evident on the discover dogs stand the club runs at Crufts so successful organised by Richard Mavro Michaelis and his hard working team of volunteers.

There are a number of changes made by the KC with regards to the judging framework and the club will be holding BAD days ( Breed Appreciation Days) for judges wanting to move up the judging ladder. The breed now has a BEC (Breed Education Coordinator) in Sue Worrel I wish her well in her new role. I wish all our members a successful and happy new year for this forthcoming show season and as a committee we welcome any input or ideas you our members may wish to put forward to us regarding the club and its activities after all it's your club and we are happy for new members to come along and join us on the committee if you have time to spare.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

The Annual General Meeting of the Midland & Northern Counties French Bulldog Club will be held on Sunday May 5th, 2019 commencing at 10.30am at the PEACE MEMORIAL HALL, PINFOLD LANE, PENKRIDGE, STAFFS. ST19 5AP.

Any nominations for the committee (the retiring committee members under rule 5b, will be seeking re-election) or items for the agenda must be received by the Hon. Secretary no later than 20th April 2019.

Secretary's Report

Dear Members,

This year is my first year back as Secretary for the Midland and Northern Counties French Bulldog Club and what a year! Our 60th anniversary year has been celebrated across our 2 Open Shows and our Championship Show, which has created a perfect atmosphere. Many of our members have made lovely comments praising the committee on their dedication and commitment.

I would personally like to thank all the members that have supported us at our shows. Our new Show Secretary, Abbie Cund for her creativity and support with these shows and our Membership Secretary, David Spencer for all his hard work collecting our membership in.

Our committee have worked extremely hard this anniversary year in making it special for our members and visitors to our club events. We are looking for committee members to join us, so if you are interested please contact me regarding our vacancies. A massive thank you to all our committee.

I hope you had time to pop in at Crufts and support our Discover Dogs stand. Once again supported by members and committee, thank you to all who supported, and if you fancy manning the booth next year just drop me an email.

This year we have decided to sponsor 3 shows with judge's names and rosettes, helping smaller shows with entries.

Hopefully, we should be supporting health checks at some of our shows this year, so please watch this space.

Our aim to create an environment for our members to enjoy and spend the day with us.

Kind regards

Amanda

Secretary MNCFBC

I've Got Your Back

Part 3: Back Talk

Lori Hunt DVM

In the last two issues, I talked a lot about back disease in Frenchies; the signs, symptoms and causes. Now I'd like to talk about what we can do to make things better. This final part is less fact and more of the editorial opinion of its author.

In the OFA study done by Dr. Keller in 2004, a total of 245 dogs were radiographed and submitted. Of those dogs, 95.1% of those dogs were found to have at least one anomaly. 941 anomalies were found in the 245 dogs, which averages out to almost 4 anomalies per dog. 95.1% of these anomalies were found to be in the thoracic area. 19% of these dogs had 6 or more anomalies in the spine. 70% of the anomalies were located between T5-T9. Approximately 75% of the dogs had 3 or less in a row. 7 dogs in the study had herniated discs apparently unrelated to the anomalies. In my humble opinion, I feel these may be related in a way that isn't readily apparent, in that the rest of the back takes on some extra work due to anomalies in other areas which stresses and weakens the disc, perhaps leading to herniation.

Intervertebral disc disease is thought to be highly heritable in many breeds, like dachshunds, so it's likely the same in ours. I also believe that vertebral anomalies and their placement are at least somewhat inherited. Some is due to the mere fact of being a French bulldog and the conformation that comes with this breed.

So how can we eliminate back problems in French bulldogs? Well the honest answer is that I am not sure we can completely... I do however have some ideas I think will benefit the breed as a whole. When I started in Frenchies, I made a promise to myself that every breeding I did would be for the "betterment of the breed". I was determined to make my dogs healthier. So I'm going to share some things I have tried over the years. I have noticed a significant difference within my line. None of these will guarantee perfection, but I believe they can help. I have statistics from over 15 years and 8 generations since my first litter. I have seen a compelling improvement in the spines of my dogs, with a decrease in both the average number of anomalies and back incidences as they age.

Here's 10 common sense ideas you can do to attempt to lessen back issues within your breeding program as well as individual dogs. (These are the author's opinion)

1) Don't breed to dogs or from bitches who have had back problems and/or surgery.

- 2) Find a knowledgeable vet who can really read spine films, when in doubt send to a radiologist. Radiograph all your puppies, even ones you don't keep. When you have an opportunity to choose between several quality pups, try to keep the one with the least anomalies with which to move forward.
- 3) Keep in contact with your puppy owners so you can hear what issues develop. Often breeders place dogs after they are done breeding and many don't live with old dogs. Living with an old dog (or any age) with a back problem will certainly make you want to attempt to not produce it again.
- 4) Breed for less extreme back length, instead breed for a more moderate back length in balance with leg length. This almost certainly will come with less anomalies.
- 5) Breed only to dogs who've had spine films done. Knowledge is power.
- 6) Breed to older males. Dogs over the age of 6-8 years old who've not had back trouble, can be a great asset in a breeding program. Obviously, this isn't possible with bitches.
- 7) Share your results. With anyone and everyone. At the very least, share with those who breed into your lines. Similarly, ASK before breeding. Ask if there is a history or intervertebral disc disease, rear weakness or spinal stenosis before breeding to a dog.
- 8) Breed for dogs with decent neck length, good rib length and a short loin. Long loins are unstable. The majority of back length should be made up of rib cage, which supports the vertebrae and as an added bonus, will allow the dog to breathe better too.
- 9) Consider keeping dogs intact. Sex hormones add a lot to their health, muscle mass and generally keep them in better shape.
- 10) Keep all frenchies at ideal body mass and give them regular exercise.

As mentioned, these are my opinion and strategies and have been incredibly successful in my line. I'd love to get feedback from folks who start implementing these ideas and hear about your success.

60th Anniversary Championship Show September 2018

Judge Miss J Lanning

A very special thank-you to the Committee to be invited to judge the 60th Anniversary Show, making me so welcome and spoiling me. It was a privilege with such a large entry, to be able to go over the cream of the breed. Unfortunately, it brought also to notice, those, who are subject to displaying, faults which are not in the interests of Health in the breed. Out of the whole entry, I would say, the percentage, would be in the minority, but it is important when breeding to only select healthy dogs as breeding stock!

The Breed is fortunate in having a very clear and detailed standard. Dogs, with short noses, or nose at all, should not be considered. I had some worries, that the tail should cover the anus! There were several I placed well that did not have a visible tail, but were excellent in other respects. Some eyes, showing white, and blood shot!. Small pinched jaws, and wry mouths, not acceptable.

Of course, we all know this Breed, the great characteristics are the 'Bat Ears'. Generally, all were correct, in facing forward, although ideally, they should be parallel to each other, and not 'east west'. Those, having read so far, will think, perhaps I have gone 'over the top' in my general critique. My main reason being that this wonderful breed, registrations hitting an all time high, must present a better face to its critics from the national media. I found some really lovely young stock in the early classes, which indicates the effort being made by the true fanciers in the breed, and of course augurs well for the future. Therefore some of my report is concise.

The judging of French Bulldogs takes time, as one has to be careful not to throw the 'baby out with the bath water'. I can well understand why so many, have completely fallen for the charms of this sturdy, but small enough to be, cuddly dog. On the table, they were my best friend and inviting me to take them home! It is certainly a judging engagement, I will remember as being, very special, in a number of ways.

Over many years, I have been sent the well produced Magazine BAT EARS, always a mine of information, and thank those responsible.

FRENCH BULLDOG ITEMS WITH A DIFFERENCE!

Servant Bells

Maureen Bootle

In the early 1900s one summoned ones staff by ringing a hand bell. Those above, and the Gornik bronze opposite, came with the onset of electricity into the homes – and would have been in the houses of the wealthier families by the early 30s. The two on the left and the two on the right are bronze, and have holes where they were wired to the electricity supply; the one on the right still having some wire remaining. One simply pressed the button, or in the case of the 2nd from the left, the Frenchie, to ring for the servant.

The silver one in the centre, was also wired to the electricity supply, and is hallmarked London 1928. The base diameter is 2.25". The exquisite French Bulldog head (sorry, the photo does not do it justice) was pressed to call the maid – I am sure this would have been a lady's bell. This is one of my favourite pieces.

A delightful bronze by Friedrich Gornik. Press the bone to summon the staff!

An earlier hand bell. This 4" bell is possibly the ugliest item in any Frenchie collection!

BREED APPRECIATION DAY

This year the Midland and Northern Counties French Bulldog Club and the Pennine and Scottish French Bulldog Association will be jointly holding two Breed Appreciation Days - the first on 28th April at Swinton Masonic Hall, Swinton, Manchester and the second later in the year in the Midlands.

The Breed Appreciation Day (BAD) replaces the previous Breed Club Judging Seminar. The aim is to:

Educate individuals interested in the breed, be they exhibitors, aspiring judges or breeders, and provide them with information about the breed.

To test a candidate's knowledge of the Breed Standard via a Multiple-choice Breed Standard Exam.

Those who attend because they are interested in learning more about the breed, or updating their knowledge, and do not wish to sit the examination will obtain an Attendance Certificate which may be used later as part of the criteria for progression to (JCF) Level 2.

Only those attendees who have completed all the requirements necessary to be at JCF Level 1 may take the Multiple Choice Exam. A pass certificate may be used as part of the criteria for progression to JCF Level 2.

Structure Of The Day

There will be a Breed Presentation to provide the basic knowledge needed to establish and/or refresh understanding and appreciation of the breed. Special points relating to the French Bulldog, Breed Watch information and Movement are all covered in the presentation. The breed presentation is interactive with demonstration dogs being used to illustrate the standard and provide practical experience.

Knowledge gained through the presentation, together with information provided prior to the day, will help with answering questions in the subsequent multiple choice exam.

Candidates are encouraged to ask questions and there will be a "Question and Answer" session, with a panel of Championship Show judges, after the breed presentation.

The Multiple choice exam is held under test conditions and questions are selected from a bank of questions approved by The Kennel Club. The papers are marked by two people and candidates receive their results on the day.

The advantage of the scheme is that all Breed clubs will now hold identical days thus standardising judges' training.

For information regarding the Breed Appreciation Days please contact Dean Cund:
(d.cund@sky.com)

The KC Judges Competency Framework (JCF)

The Judges Competency Framework (JCF) was announced in the spring of 2017, has been piloted with 14 breeds, and will start to go 'live' in 2019. It will run alongside the current system for a transition period, and be fully operational from January 2022.

The requirement that all judges must be licenced at JCF Level 1 will now be introduced from 1 January 2020.

Before accepting your first judging appointment you must register a JCF account with a declaration of intent as an 'Aspiring Judge' and achieve JCF Level 1.

In order to achieve Level 1 you must have:

1. A proven interest of a minimum of 5 years in one or more aspects of the breeding and exhibiting pedigree dogs (including show administration/stewarding).
2. Undertaken 6 days of stewarding and completed and passed KCA stewarding multiple choice exam.
3. Attended a Kennel Club Requirements of Dog Show Judge and passed the exam.
4. Passed The Kennel Club Points of a Dog assessmen.
5. Attended a kennel Club Conformation and Movement seminar.
6. Completed and passed KCA online critique seminar and multiple choice exam..

Upon achieving this level you can accept appointments to judge up to 3 classes (or 4 if one class is a puppy class) at KC licensed Open/ Limited Shows.

In order to move to Level 2 you must have :

1. Attended a Breed Appreciation Day for the breed you wish to judge.
2. Passed the subsequent multiple-choice Breed Standard Exam.
3. Refreshed Requirements of a Dog Show Judge Seminar exam every 5 years.

Then you can apply to the KC For JCF Level 2 status in that breed.

For further information on the JCF please go to:

www.thekennelclub.org.uk/training/judges-education/breed-show-judges-training/

Breed Education Coordinator

Sue Worrell has taken on the role of Breed Education Co-ordinator (BEC) for French Bulldogs: "The role is part of the new Judges Competency Framework (JCF) which comes into effect towards the end of 2019. Full details of the JCF have been available to judges and people interested in becoming a judge for quite some time now, and the information can be found online at: www.thekennelclub.org.uk/training/judges-education/breed-show-judges-training/

The BEC is an administrative role to co-ordinate breed specific education and support for judges. The role will also involve co-ordinating the pairing of mentors and mentees and arranging for Observers. I will also be the point of contact for the KC with the breed, and report to them annually on breed education activity.

The breed clubs have been asked to forward details of members who have excellent breed knowledge and meet one of the following criteria:

1. Someone who awards CCs in the breed.
2. A judge who is currently judging or retired and has the regard of the breed club.
3. Judges with recognised and current experience in the breed but who may not have owned the breed.
4. A respected breeder/handler who does not judge or judges but not at CC level

The aim of mentoring is to educate judges of the breed and provide them with the information to make informed decisions to preserve and safeguard the breed. If anybody who meets the above criteria and would like to become a mentor or would like more information please contact me via email: becfrenchbulldogs@outlook.com

Mentoring can take place in four separate scenarios: group mentoring, one-to-one mentoring at the ringside, when mentees are judging Special Award Classes at a breed club show, and as a student judge in the ring with the mentor/judge at a show.

Mentors are welcome to specify which type of mentoring they would be happy to provide."

Judges that meet the JCF level 2 are eligible to request mentoring sessions.

If anyone has any queries or would like any further information, please contact Sue on the above email address.

A Brief History of The French Bulldog

Carole Ash

Following a recent discussion I had regarding the 'country of origin' of French Bulldogs I decided to write a brief history of the breed. Put quite simply the breed does not have a single country as its country of origin! It is one of a few breeds which owes its existence to the efforts of breeders of more than one country. It is generally acknowledged that English, French and American breeders all played important roles in the development of what we now call The French Bulldog.

The foundation of the breed began in England, perhaps as a reaction to the demise of bull baiting when a smaller, less formidable Bulldog was desired. By 1850 little bulldogs were a common site in London, Nottingham and Birmingham. By 1860 a few were being exhibited at dog shows under the title 'Toy Bulldogs'. There were special classes for Bulldogs under 12 pounds, but the average small Bulldog weighed between 16 and 25 pounds. These lightweight Bulldogs varied in type- some had rose ears, others erect ears, some were short in the leg, others tall, some had long muzzles other short muzzels.

By 1850 the Industrial Revolution had begun to impact on the work availability for many English workers. Many workers moved to France to seek work, particularly in niche industries like lace working. Some of the lace workers of Nottingham who went to France to continue their work, took their small companion bulldogs with them. The little bulldogs were excellent guardians and particularly adept at vermin control. The French had never seen these miniature bulldogs before and fell in love with them. English breeders were delighted in this surge in popularity and gave them the opportunity to rid themselves of their 'undesirable stock' of small, tulip eared puppies. They became so popular in France that two London dog dealers specialized in exportimng them, and by 1860 they were virtually extinct in England!

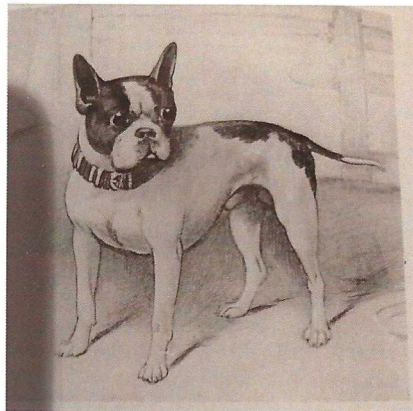

Pierce Paris 1897

Amongst their admirers in Paris were the 'Ladies of the night'. They became a part of their 'advertising' accoutrements just as their suggestive clothing and silk stockings were.

Their popularity in France spread to the higher echelons of French Society and it is reported that their popularity also spread to the Russian nobility who regularly imported puppies from France. It is thought that with the diminishing number of imports from England the French breeders introduced other breeds into the mix, to help meet the growing demand for puppies. It is believed terriers produced the high ears and longer bodies that began to distinguish them from the English type that had a more roached topline. Terrier would also account for their abilities as ratters and the longer tails.

By 1880 the French Bulldog was internationally popular and this provoked the interest of English breeders again. Mr Richard Harrison is credited with being the first breeder in England to reimport the breed around 1890. Also soon after Mr George Krehl also began a steady importation from France. At this time they were still known as 'Toy Bulldogs' in England. The French however were concerned that the English would ruin the breed and decided to write a standard to differentiate the French Bulldog from the English Toy Bulldog. In England the original supporters of the true miniature Bulldog type were aghast at the French dogs that were being imported under the name of Toy Bulldog. As a consequence, in 1902 The Toy Bulldog Club split and a new breed club was set up The French Bulldog Club of England.

Nottingham Frank 1850

It was commented by Lady Kathleen Pilkington at the time that the French Bulldog had 'returned most attractive... but hampered by many undesirable features such as bat ears, froggy faces, waving tails and a general lack of Bulldog character.' By 1905 the KC gave the breed separate recognition under the breed name Le Bouldedogue Français. Later the name was changed to The French Bulldog.

By 1880 Paris was the cosmopolitan capital of the world and as well as the Russian nobility taking an interest in these small bulldog types, wealthy tourists from America travelled there and also fell in love with them. Many dogs were taken back to the States where they became very popular. A small group of dedicated breeders sought to improve the breed and very quickly were producing a more consistent type than had been seen anywhere else. In 1896 the first dogs were exhibited, unofficially, at Westminster in New York by a group of prominent society ladies. The press gave the exhibition a great deal of coverage which served to boost the demand for these dogs.

The following year the Westminster Catalogue featured a French Bulldog on its cover. The Judge for the first official show for French Bulldogs in the USA was an English Judge who selected only rose ear exhibits as his prize winners. (The English and French at the time preferred the rose ear.) The American exhibitors were outraged that the Bat Ear or Tulip Ear was being penalised and they decided to set up their own Breed Club; The French Bull Dog Club of America. That same year they wrote the world's first Official Breed Standard for The French Bull Dog. It is argued that had the Americans not defined the correct ear type as 'Bat Ears', dogs with this type of ear would have died out.

So there we have it. The French Bulldog we know today has no one country that can be defined as its country of origin despite its name! It originated in England was altered by the French and altered again in the USA.

'Felix' 1899

Reverse sneezing

This is a fairly common respiratory event in dogs. It happens more often in small breed dogs, perhaps because they have smaller throats and windpipes.

How to Recognize an Episode of Reverse Sneezing

In a regular sneeze, air is pushed out through the nose. In a reverse sneeze, air is pulled rapidly and noisily in through the nose. For some dogs, it's a more or less normal event. Just as sneezing is a part of life, reverse sneezing is also a part of many dogs' lives.

The sound that accompanies reverse sneezing is kind of a sudden, startling sound that makes many dog owners think their pet is either choking or having an asthma attack.

A dog who is reverse sneezing typically stands still with his elbows spread apart, head extended or back, eyes bulging as he makes this loud snorting sound. The strange stance on top of the strange snorting sound is why many dogs end up getting rushed to the veterinarian or the emergency clinic by their panicked parents.

Episodes of reverse sneezing can last from a few seconds to a minute or two. As soon as it passes, the dog breathes perfectly normally.

Causes of Reverse Sneezing and How You Can Help Your Pet

Reverse sneezing is caused by a spasm of the throat and soft palate. The spasm is triggered by an irritation to the throat, pharynx, or laryngeal area. The most common triggers are excitement, exercise intolerance, a collar that's too tight, pulling on the leash, an environmental irritant like pollen, perfume, or even a household chemical or cleaner, room sprays, or even a sudden change in temperature. Rarely, there can be a respiratory infection or chronic post-nasal drip that causes the condition.

In the winter, some dogs may reverse-sneeze every single time they go from inside to outside. Open the front door and they automatically reverse-sneeze.

Reverse sneezing rarely requires treatment. As soon as the sneezing stops, the situation is resolved.

But since episodes of reverse sneezing can make your dog anxious, it's important that you remain calm. The biggest issue is a conditioned panic response in a pet, triggered by an owner who freaks out each time the dog reverse-sneezes.

If you feel the need to do something for your dog, you can try massaging her throat to stop the spasm. You can also try covering your pet's nostrils very briefly. This will cause her to swallow, which usually helps clear the irritation and stop the sneezing. You can also push their chin gently towards their chest to open up the airway.

If the episode doesn't end quickly and if you trust your dog's response, you can try putting your hand in her mouth and pressing on her tongue. This will cause her to open her mouth wider and help move air through the nose effectively.

But honestly, these types of intervention are usually not necessary and can sometimes add to everyone's stress level. I do recommend owners pay attention to when reverse sneezing occurs, where the dog is and what she's doing right before, or as it begins.

When to See the Vet

If your pet's reverse sneezing becomes a chronic problem, or episodes are becoming more frequent or longer in duration, make an appointment with your vet to rule out things like a potential foreign body in the respiratory tract, nasal cancers, polyps or tumors, nasal mites, a collapsing trachea, kennel cough, or a respiratory infection.

If you're able to catch a reverse sneezing episode on video to play for your vet, it can sometimes help him or her discern what's really happening – whether it's reverse sneezing or perhaps something else.

If your pet is experiencing prolonged episodes of reverse sneezing, bloody or yellow discharge from the nose, or any other accompanying respiratory problems, it's time to make an appointment with your vet. Just as dogs sneeze intermittently throughout their lives, most dogs have at least a few reverse sneezing episodes during their lives as well. In the vast majority of cases, the episodes are temporary and intermittent, resolving on their own.

November Open Show ~ Judge Mrs I Stansfield

First of all can I thank the members for voting for me to judge the 60th anniversary November show, it was a real honour to do it, I enjoyed my day very much and the good sportsmanship of the exhibitors. Thank you to my very helpful steward Gordon and also to Peter and Bryn who took me for a fabulous lunch. Lastly thank you to the club for the lovely plaque I was presented with It will take pride of place in my cabinet.

Some of the classes were quite hard to judge as and in some classes I was splitting hairs to get my winner. I did notice in there is so much variation in breed types and sizes and one class I did there was in fact 5 different types.

Class1 1st Coffeys Ascensions Winston of Raglenary. Compact fawn with a dark mask 8 months old with a lovely headpiece, dark round eyes and correct ear set. He had a good front with tight feet a gentle roach and was a good little mover. One to watch out for. Best puppy dog. 2nd Wooleys Concierge George. 7 month old brindle male larger in size than the winner with a lovely head and good ear placement and with dark round eyes. Good straight front and a nice shape he moved ok.

Class 2 Marshes Roscoes Im Balan. Up to size brindle age 10 months, nice head and with a dark eyes good front and neat feet, shapely body but a bit loose in movement.

Class 3 Pleasance Katakia last man standing. 15 month old pied boy with lots to like beautiful large square head with dark round eyes with well padded cheeks. He had a lovely cobby body and good rib and was a good little mover. He took a little time to settle but once he did he showed his socks off and I was pleased to award him Best Male.

Class 4 1st Chareves Davy Crocket. Light brindle male with much to like lovely size with a good headpiece round dark eyes and well padded cheeks, a good front with neat feet and a compact shapely body and a small tail present. Moved well. 2nd Coffeys Feniton Fredrick at Raglenary. Brindle male almost 2 years old longer cast than my 1st in lovely condition with a large square head and the darkest of eyes and good earset. Well proportioned body but was very excitable and it was difficult to assess his movement.

Class 5 Ayriiss Boulevaya Another fine Mess. 3 year old fawn with a dark muzzle lovely size head with dark eyes with well padded cheeks and open nostrils ears erect and on the top of his head. He was cobby in shape with good rib and moved ok.

Class 6 & 7 absent

Class 8 Cunds Chelmbull Moon Walker. 2 year old dark brindle male of lovely size and proportions . Large square head with the darkest round eyes and well padded cheeks, ears on the top of his head when he decided to use them. Lovely body shape with good rib and a gentle roach. Sound on the move Res best dog. 2nd Coffey Risethor Sweeny Tod. Another dark brindle dog, a 6 year old male who was behaving more like a 6 month old and he was a real handful for his handler. No the less a lovely size with a cracking head and the darkest of eyes and a compact cobby body. He moved ok .

Class 9&10 no entries

Class 11 Chareves Davy Crocket

Class 12 Tuttle Bambel Buster Keaton

7 moths old with a black mask . Lovely head and well padded cheeks good straight front and a shapely body, longer cast than my winners.

Class 13 1st Corursus Under the ivy. Beautiful 6 months old double hooded clear pied. What a little star in the making lovely head with the sweetest expression. She had ears on top of her head at all times and had round dark eyes and a lovely body shape for one so young and moved round the ring with a look at me expression, and she totally stole my heart, I am sure she has a bright future ahead of her and I awarded her Best puppy in show. 2nd Cunds Daulokkes Sauvage Rose at Chelmbull (imp dnk naf taf) 8 month old dark brindle beautiful head with lovely dark round eyes and a melting expression, she has a lovely shapely body and her coat was gleaming another to watch out for in the future.

Class 14 Smiths Tydrakon Black Pearl. Very timid dark brindle female . She had a pretty head with dark eyes and decent padding . A nice shapely body but very unsettled on the move.

Class 15 1st Melvins Nevadabul Spirit of Delilah. Fawn with with a dark mask. She had a lovely head and expression dark eyes and correct ear placement . She was longer in type and won her class on movement . 2nd Wooleys Maznlilroo Ava Maria 2.5 year old fawn with a pretty little head with dark eyes and correct earset and a short cobby body. I could not assess her movement as she was playing up.

Class 16 1st Smiths Xentique B'witched for Taffique. Another I could take home. Quality brindle aged 22 months with a super head with a lovely soft expression. She has dark round eyes and correct earset, good straight front with neat tight feet. Lovely body shape with good rib and a gentle roach and what a lovely mover Not overdone in any way. I gave her the class best bitch and best in show. I was trilled to find out later that this young lady has 2 tickets I really don't think she will be waiting much longer for her 3rd. 2nd Goddards Kianspuchi Hello Dolly. 4 year old fawn with a dark mask good head with dark eyes and good earset. She had a cobby body good rib and a decent tail. She was a good mover.

Class 17 1st Smiths Finlewvas Tinytots. Fawn 2.5 year old fawn with a dark mask. She has a lovely head and has round dark eyes and a lovely expression decent padding to her cheeks. Good front with neat feet and black toenails. A lovely cobby body with good rib and a gentle roach. She was a lovely mover too. 2nd Fabulos Lilly brave goddess for Chinaskies. White pied with very good pigmentation she has a lovely head and expression with dark eyes and decent padding. Her body is cobby and she had a good cut up and rib with a gentle roach. But I think she was having a pied day as she was playing her owner up this one should be clown of the day.

Class 18 1st Coffeys Art'dahomi Polet Felice of Ragelenary. 2.5 year old fawn with a dark mask, lovely square head and expression with round dark eyes and ears on top of her head. Nice compact size and had a good front and tight neat feet. She had good rib and had a gentle roach and looked good on the move. 2nd Come and look at me at Katakia. Pied aged 3 years old with a square head with dark round eyes and a broad muzzle. Good ears that were on the top of her head. Her body is compact and she has good rib and bone. Moved out ok.

Class 19 1st Corourus life Can be so Nice. 2 year old brindle. She has a lovely square head dark eyes and a gentle kind expression. Her ears were the correct size and erect. She has a straight front and has a lovely body shape with good rib and tuck up, she was also a lovely mover.

Class 20 1st Katakia the One and Only. 3 year old clear pied with a great head and round dark eyes, her ears were erect at all times. Good front with tight feet. She has a lovely compact body shape and has good rib and is a sound mover I liked her a lot. 2nd Corursus The Glamorous Life. A 2 year old brindle with a lot to like and she has a lovely head and a soft expression with dark eyes and her ears were up all the time. A compact body with decent rib and a lovely mover

Class 21 no entries I did miss not having any veterans I used to love showing mine and she enjoyed her day out too.

Class 23 1st Xentique B Witched for Taffique. Best in show. 2nd Davis Millhaven Lady Penelope. 21 month old brindle a nice size with a lovely head and dark eyes with a good earset and padding to her cheeks. She had a lovely shapley body and a small tail present.
