BAT EARS CHAIRMAN'S REPORT

Dear Members,

I hope that you will be able to attend our AGM this year.

For reasons that even I am not able to explain, this event has crept later and later into the year. This makes it difficult for us arrange a suitable date because we encroach into the show calendar.

When Sue and I first became members, I remember the AGM being held at the beginning of the year and definitely before CRUFTS. This then coincided with the end of Club's year in January.

I am pleased to inform you that in future we will be bringing the AGM back to the beginning of the year.

The hiring of an hotel room and meal subsidy has become very expensive and we really do need to move away from that format. This year, we are hiring the Peace Memorial Hall at Penkridge. In the morning, we shall be discussing the Kennel Club's new rulings which affect our breed, and our response.

We will then follow that with a light buffet (expertly prepared by our kitchen team) and then we will hold the AGM. A formal notice will of course be sent out informing you of the topics under discussion and the format of the day.

Please come along and support this event, your views and suggestions are valued and as I have said time and time again, this is your club, help your committee to run it. It is likely we are going to hold future AGMs at the Penkridge Hall, incorporating a fun event therefore, your ideas will be more than welcome.

Talking about getting involved, I have some sad news to tell you. Jackie Mavro-Machaelis, our Honorary Secretary, has informed me that she does not intend to continue in this role after the AGM. I will take this opportunity to thank Jackie for all of the hard work and dedication she has given to the club. Jackie has been totally devoted to her job and I can assure you that she will be sorely missed.

We have had an exceptionally busy year, the Committee meetings seem to take longer to get through these days. I would therefore like to extend my thanks to all the members of the committee for giving up their time for the benefit of this club and for all their hard work.

I should also mention the excellent stand at CRUFTS Discover Dogs; to those who took the trouble to represent us there, a very big thank you.

May I conclude by wishing each and every one of you a very successful year.

Kind Regards,
Tim Griffiths
Chairman.

EDITORS LETTER

It's that time of the year again! Shows will be coming thick and fast, with, hopefully, some good weather for you and your Frenchies to enjoy.

Again we must thank all those who have continued to support Bat Ears as we come into our second year, It isn't a easy task gathering together articles and adverts. We try to cover all fields of interest as a huge majority of our members don't show or breed. They adore their pets and eagerly await the arrival of Bat Ears on their door step; it's a perfect excuse to stop the ironing, grab a cuppa and sit and enjoy reading and looking at our wonderful Frenchies and what they have been up to.

For those who wish to send in anything it is always gratefully received.

Many of the non-breed specialists on our judges A list have contacted us with their thanks for sending Bat Ears to them. We sometimes wonder if they are the only ones who read it? We welcome feed back good or bad.

Bat Ears is the perfect opportunity to advertise your wins and let the world see how well your Frenchie has been doing, or simply showing off the ones you love.

It is hoped that sometime in 2011 we will be holding a garden party – for members and their Frenchies, which will be invaluable to socialise up coming puppies, also a great way for prospective Frenchie owners to come and meet our little people in a relaxed environment. Members will be advised of this in due course, but any suggestions or ideas to make it a successful event are welcomed.

This year our club had the job of manning the breed stand at Crufts. We were rushed off our feet for most of the day. With a bumper entry, the Frenchie ring was packed from start till finish, and the stall did really well. The Club's Books of Champions sold like hot cakes. We had some very interesting collectables, and the Ben De Lisi items sold out!

Congratulations to members Jack & Frances Krall and their Frenchie "Percy" (aka Ch Jafrak Pistols At Dorn) on not only being the latest Champion in the breed but also being runner up in the Dog World/Pro Plan Pup Of The Year Contest 2010. It's great to see our breed doing so well.

Producing Bat Ears is quite an expensive exercise for the Club, so we hope you continue to enjoy it. Again, thank you to those faithful and supportive members who send us advertisements and donations.

We wish you and your Frenchies a wonderful Summer, good luck to those who show their dogs; enjoy yourselves.

Remember this is YOUR club!

The Bat Ears Team.

Sylvia Greensmith

*Exactly 100 years ago, Mr F. Townend Barton
M.R.C.V.S. published his delightful*

'MY BOOK OF LITTLE DOGS'.

Illustrated by G. Vernon Stokes it contains chapters on twelve small breeds, all in the Toy Group today, except for Schipperkes and Frenchies. His musings on the Frenchie are as follows:

The French Bulldog

(Bouledogue Francaise)

There are many ladies who are very fond of this comparatively recent introduction, in fact, the bulk of breeding operations have been conducted by the fair sex, and up to the present time with very satisfactory results.

In appearance the French Bulldog can hardly be regarded as prepossessing, and such expletives as "ugly brute" are not uncommonly heard at the ring side whilst these dogs are being judged. All ladies are not, however, alike in their fancies, external appearances counting for very little with some.

The breed, as a whole, has made a distinct advancement, and there are indications that it will continue to find favour as its merits become better known.

Without entering into a long discourse, we may at once say there is a divergence of opinion as to whether the parental stock of the Bouledogue Francais originated in England, France or Spain. Unfortunately there are insufficient data upon which to form anything but a speculative opinion, though the author leans to the opinion that the breed is due to the introduction of small, undersized English Bulldogs into France, it being a well-known fact that exportations from Great Britain were common during the last century.

Be this as it may, the conformation of the French Bulldog is allied to, though not identical with, that of the British Bulldog. It is quite an easy matter to account for the slight differences that exist, though unnecessary to enter into a consideration of the origin of these differences in a work of this kind.

During the last few years the French Bulldog has been bred upon more systematic lines, and now that ladies have found out exactly what standard of type they wish to breed to, it is a comparatively easy matter to follow on.

For companionship they are very nice dogs, being good tempered, playful, and intelligent, all of which features appeal to the fair sex.

It is the "bat ears" which give the breed its characteristic facial expression, being a modification of that of the English Bulldog.

In colour they are usually brindle, either dark or light, whilst black or black and tan will disqualify.

The coat should be short, coarse, hard and smooth, but not of a wiry texture, whilst the weight should be either a) under 20 lbs.; b) over 20lbs, but under 24 lbs, or c) the latter but under 28 lbs.

A protruding tongue, prominent eyes, light eyes, and carriage of the tail over the back are all faults. The tail should be set on low and carried downwards. In looking at the general build of the body, the Bulldog characteristics are unmistakable, as exemplified by the broad brisket, the widely set apart fore limbs, the short thick, arched neck, and the strong, compact feet, especially the prominent knuckles.

The head must be massive and the forehead slightly rounded, but the top of the skull should be flat, leaving a good area between the ears, which are set on widely apart. In shape they resemble those of a bat, hence the term applied to them, i.e. "bat-eared".

The opening of the ears looks forward, hence the auditory sense is acute.

The lower jaw should be square, broad, and turned well up so as to project well in front of the upper, though the incisor teeth ought not to show, for if they do it is a fault. The upper lips should be thick and broad, but the skin of the head must not be tight.

The eyes should not be too prominent, neither should any white show, but they must be dark in colour and set low down in the skull.

The "stop" must be very deep, without any indication of a furrow above it.

The foregoing constitutes a resume of the breed, but a standard of points has been formulated by the French Bulldog Club of England, which can be obtained through the Secretary.

As previously stated, they make excellent companions, are docile, and require no special management. Good specimens command high prices, and it would appear to be one of those breeds which a lady might find sufficiently profitable to warrant her keeping them.

Anyone contemplating breeding them should endeavour to procure stock from a breeder of repute, and the nucleus of a kennel can be founded by starting either with a bitch, or a dog and a bitch, at prices ranging from six to seven guineas to double that amount.

The French Bulldog Welfare Trust

Annual Report 2011.

Throughout 2010 we are still seeing an increase in the number of Frenchie puppies being registered with the kennel club. We have also noted the importation of Frenchies mainly from eastern European countries is still continuing to rise.

The effect of the recent financial crisis does not seem to have dampened the increased interest in Frenchies shown on internet sites from puppy farmers and unscrupulous breeders and the like which is continuing to create a glut of puppies etc. for sale, The only apparent effect is that prices are coming down.

From the Trust point of view we are still seeing an increase in Frenchies coming into The Welfare.

Following the last AGM In 2010 the welfare has seen a steady number of Frenchies coming in for rehoming, however since the beginning of December the increase in trust cases has dramatically increased with 14 dogs having to be re-homed in a three month period. Once again imports are among them, our total numbers dealt with has now overtaken last years total and reached 25 Frenchies.

Once again the problems we have encountered among the re-homed dogs have been temperament problems; some have also had allergy/food intolerance problems. The dogs have aged from a 10 months through to a pair of Frenchies 8 & 9 years old, with most dogs around the 14 months -3 year old mark, I can see this trend continuing and possibly increasing in 2011. The breed is continuing to be in the public eye being seen in TV adverts, major films, the continued celebrity association and the increase in merchandise bearing Frenchie motifs etc.

The Trust has done more this year to promote itself. The Trust Web site www.frenchbulldogwelfare.moonfruit.com is now up and running and beginning to get good viewing figures

We are actively recruiting volunteers to help with the increased work of the Trust. It is our goal to have a net work of knowledgeable people covering all areas of the UK to help with our future projects of educating, rescuing and re-homing those Frenchies and their owners that need us. With this in mind we are asking all those who are interested to get in touch with the Trustees or coordinators, giving their contact details and details of how they can become part of our 'Network of Knowledge'.

If we can educate the general public about the benefits and problems of buying and owning our beautiful breed, then hopefully in years to come we will gradually reduce the need for our services.

Finally the Trustees would like to thank all those who have supported and helped the trust to carry out its work in 2010 and hope they along with many others will continue to support the Trust in the years to come.

Once again anyone wishing to learn more about volunteering to help with the work of the Trust, please speak to any of the Trustee's, or you can e-mail us at rustibee.frenchies@virgin.net or carol.burton3@ntlworld.com or gerry@haddowelectrical.co.uk for information on how you can help.

Henry's Story

We drove for what seemed to be hours to get to Irene & Ruperts house to pick up Henry.

We were greeted by 2 incredibly cute puppies and their owners, We were taken to H's pad - a rather grand kennel where he had to stay because of the puppies.

He was immediately excited and friendly, and after a much needed cuppa we took him back to Nottingham.

He was brilliant in the car and to this day makes a excellent passenger.

It was late when we got home and Nick decided to sleep downstairs with him for the night, in the morning he couldn't believe his luck- someone had laid on breakfast of 3 Guniea Pigs for him but first he had to get into their run.

He then met our cat which is no stranger to dogs but didn't take kindly to having a dog head butt her.

We then decided to walk him to the papershop where H's breathing got more and more laboured, within a week H was sorted out and with help and advice from the rescue we found solutions to all of our problems.

H came with a blue ball which he loves and will never tire of chasing it, he then tries to bury it in our strawberry pot.

Like all Frenchies H is quite a noisy dog, if not snorting he is trumping so fits in well with the two other boys!.

We discovered that H is quite a footballer and we take him to our sons matches, where he plays along side the match with his own ball.

At the end of the match he joins the boys for a team talk and finds a willing knee to sit on!.

H did try to come upstairs for a treat on Christmas Day he was allowed to join us. Apart from that he stays downstairs and has his bed in the utility room.

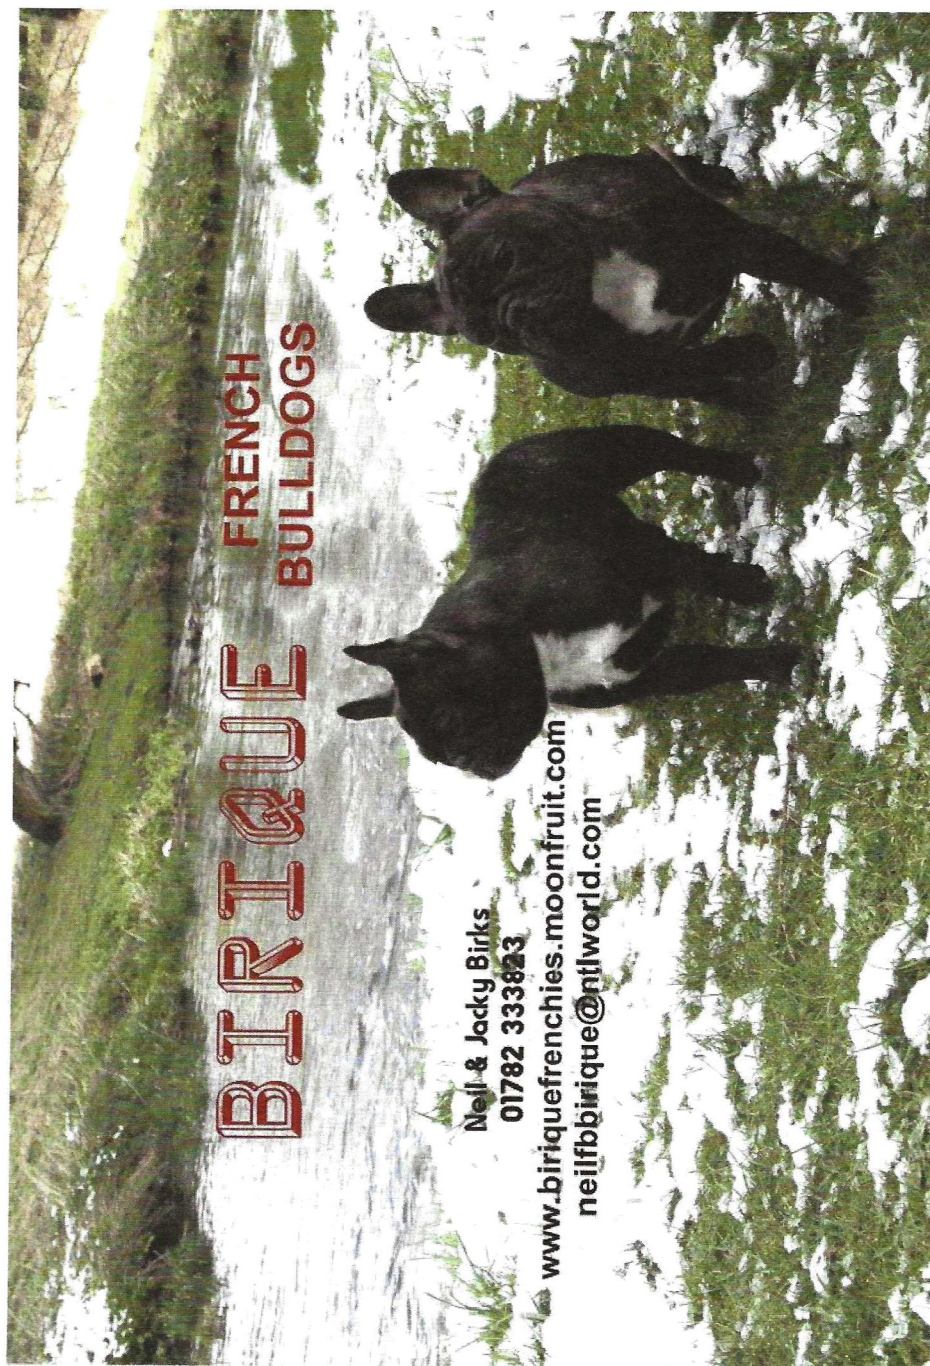

We live in a old Victorian house and the stairs are too steep for his little legs to manage - he is ok going up but useless going down again.

H loves his new home and has just returned form his first holiday with us to Cornwall where he enjoyed chasing a old bottle on the beach, but was not so keen on walking in the sleet on the moors.

We feel like H has always been with us and it is great having a dog to take on walks and spend time with.

FRENCHIES RULE! (FRENCHIE RULES?)

1. If you have to throw up, get into a chair; QUICKLY! If you can't manage that in time, get to an Oriental rug. If no Oriental rug is available, any good rug will do.
2. ALWAYS accompany guests to the bathroom. It is not necessary to do anything; just sit and stare.
3. Do not allow closed doors in any room. To get a door opened, stand on your hind legs and hammer with your forepaws.
4. When supervising cooking, sit behind the left heel of the cook. You cannot be seen, and thereby better the chance of being stepped on, picked up and consoled with food.
5. Once a door is opened, it's not necessary to use it. After you've ordered an outside door opened, stand halfway in and halfway out and think about several things. It's particularly important to do this during very cold weather, rain, snow and the mosquito season.
6. Begin people training early. You'll then have a smooth-running household. Humans need to know the basic rules. They can be taught if you start early and are consistent.

Tommyville Tchopper At Grandesign

"Tchopper" continues to add his own style of showmanship when in the ring. He reckons, after all it does state, "Clown like qualities" in the breed standard. Despite all efforts to be awkward in the ring he just seems to do enough and in 3 Championship shows has been awarded...
